b. Resolution Supporting the University of the Pacific's Implementation of Food Diversity & Inclusion on Campus

i. SR 22-23\_01 Halal Food

The rules committee built a resolution to move forward from the presentation that was made by the lack of food diversity and inclusion on campus. Even though the DUC put out their Halal certification, there's a difference between what is actually halal and what is not. Halal food is hand slaughtered rather than machine slaughtered. It was mentioned that the website is false advertising but there was clarification with the food services about what the process of Halal food actually is. The certification needs to be genuine and authentic and that's something that needs to be clarified. This is related to a previous bill that has already been passed.

This topic has been brought to Bon Appetit before and that is how they found out that the food being served was not actually halal.
